About Us

Accuspirals is one of the prominent manufacturer and supplier of a wide range of precision engineering equipments. It was incepted in 1980 by a professional engineer Mr. B. K. Jain. Under the guidance of him the company has leaped to several steps. Our owner and mentor is an engineer by profession and is trained in Germany. His vision and hard work has payed off in turning the company into a full fledged gear manufacturing unit with over 50 machine tools.

We value our clients as we consider them as our greatest asset. Our technologically advanced infrastructure and competent team forms our support system. We as an organization grow on the values of integrity, ethics, honesty and dedication. We are continuously progressing under the able guidance of the company's owner and are making the best of his experience and expertise in this industry. We have been able to carve a niche for ourselves in this domain and have been maintaining fruitful association with customers, business associates and stakeholders. Our dedication towards customer benefit and ethical business practices backs us to meet the needs of a wide clientèle across the country and abroad.
