About Us

Founded in 2001, Alsen Industries Pvt Ltd, has developed into one of the industry's most respected industrial coating & chemical companies. Our founder Mr. Pradeep Sen believes that success comes from hard work, dedication and sound ethics. His business strategy has always been to lead through aggressive business acumen, stand for fair competition, emphasize on product development by applying latest technology, and continually pioneering the development of new products in response to the changing needs of the market. Our chief chemical engineer Mr. Hriday Sen has a wealth of experience for more than four decades in liquid paint, P U paint and Acrylics. Through continuous innovations and developments, we expanded to powder coatings and other ancillary coatings which is considered by many involved in the industry to be some of the best available in the world. Our innovations that solve coating problems through research and development in coating & leather chemical technology still continue today. As manufacturers of powder coating & leather chemicals, many of our products can be customised to individual requirements, which gives us the ability to offer our customers the perfect material that is right for their particular needs. Our focus on customer's satisfaction and keeping our fixed costs to a minimum enables us to quote our product at a very competitive price. We are focused on...
