About Us

Digital World is increasingly touching each one of us. Envisioning the tremendous potential for innovative products required by the ever evolving users in computing and digital world, iBall was launched in September 2001. iBall, which started off with just one product category - the mouse, is present now in over 27 product categories. iBall today is considered as one of the most innovative and fastest growing brands in most of its product categories. From a single category to such an impressive portfolio is a compliment to the efforts of the entire iBall team and remarkable support from its customers. In the year 2010, iBall ventured into Mobile Phone business with a wide assortment of cellular phones. Embracing every noted feature of the present times backed with prompt service and care, the versatile range is aesthetically designed to endow you at every stage of life. Over 60% of the population currently owns mobile handsets and the penetration of mobile phones to even villages creates an opportunity for iBall to fulfill its dream statement... "To touch every individual through its presence in every home and office".
