About Us

We as "Ciro Medivision (Pvt.)Ltd." deal in Medical Instruments & Equipments. We are in the Medical Field for last many years with very large number of various installations of instruments & – equipments at regional, all India & international level. Ever since its – establishment the company graph is attaining new heights every day with increasing customer base & is extending its arms (our channel partners) globally, with a Belief that quality of service would speak for us. Thus, great emphasis has been laid to achieve this goal & to prove our vision "To emerge as a complete Medical Solution Provider at the international level." The importance of medical imaging for patient care is growing steadily. Not only is medical imaging the most important method for diagnosis, but it also plays an increasingly important role in treatment through the use of image-guided intervention procedures, minimally invasive surgery, and individual monitoring of response to drug treatment. Diagnostic and therapeutic medical imaging benefit the patient through more rapid and precise disease management, fewer side effects, and improved outcome. Furthermore, medical imaging benefits the health care system through improved efficiency and more cost-effective solutions, while society benefits through reductions in the increasing health and nursing expenses linked to the aging population in industrialized countries.
