About Us

7 Sutra Design & Communications ("7 Sutra") is a marketing communications firm that was founded in 2009. With a philosophy of creating design solutions that define the boundaries of origin and new age media, the Company was created to service the growing creative needs of small to mid-sized businesses across India. In an era of media fragmentation and increased commoditization, it is getting ever so important to differentiate ones' product to hold the attention of consumers that are presented with several options. In this communication scenario, a strong idea is simply not enough to help a business succeed. What it requires is a good articulation of its idea through intelligent communication, which differentiates itself from that of its competitors. This is where 7 Sutra steps in to help articulate its clients' ideas with good urban design to enable the clients businesses to reach new echelons of success. Today, the Company has easy access to creative talent of all sorts: designers, advertising professionals, web designers, photographers etc. and manages creative accounts for clients across a wide spectrum of industries including textiles, construction, services, education and retail. The Company offers a wide array of services to its clients.
