About Us

Dharrshini Engineering is founded by Mr N.Yuvaraj, basically techno-craft person. He got a great passion for providing solutions to various engineering based projects. He served with leading pump manufacturers from his young age (Fisher Pumps, Sharp Groups from 1985 onwards). He has incurred enormous experience on pump manufacturing. Due to his passion for engineering design, those companies wherever he worked developed a special Research and Development Division for making various designs and solutions to their products.

With these couple of decade experience, he has decided to start his own company. After visiting lot of pump manufacturers, he has designed these products technically efficient, cost effective and innovative. Still today he has a good relationship with his previous companies and gives consultancy service to them.

Dharrshini Engineering committed to our customers to provide an efficient- solution to any of their technical requirements.
