About Us

We are one of the eminent manufacturers and suppliers of the industry involved in a wide assortment of air pollution control system. As industrial pollution control and environmental engineering has become an essential part in the industry. In the past years industries were using conventional spraying system as a dust suppression system in air pollution control system. Our sharp vision observed the vulnerability in the conventional spraying system operation that it failed to provide complete protection against industrial air pollution. The basic scenario in the process is the fugitive and breathable dust particle of size from 1 to 800 micron is the cause for air pollution and conventional spraying system ranges from 1 to 20 microns. As a result, we offer our clients with our ultramodern technology based dry fog dust suppression system for the suppression of breathable dust and dust particles. Our this product is designed to control both non-breathable and breathable dust particles in industrial air pollution and it also meet the pollution control board prescribed norms. Our product uses a dual fluid nozzle process in, which only the compressed air and water passing through resonating zone and inner chamber of the dual fluid nozzle form a fog of ultra fine droplet particles.
