About Us

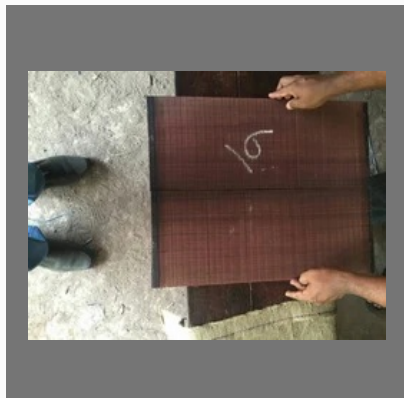

Liz Wood Products has been sculpting astoundingly beautiful symphonies in wood for 22 years. We are a greatly acclaimed manufacturer of Indian Rosewood musical instrument parts. Liz Wood Products has been singularly founded on our commitment to build masterpieces of the highest quality so that our customers can cherish our products for generations to come. Every piece that we build is a work of art, a timeless classic which we believe will stand the test of time itself. Our truly gifted craftsmen have been lovingly designing, building and supplying these masterpieces to companies and clients around the world since our inception in the year 1991. Our founder and director Mr P Varghese has built Liz Wood Products with astounding clarity of vision and he continues to be our mentor and driving force. The team at Liz Wood Products have grown and flourished under his able leadership. Our products are held in very high repute by our clients all through the world due to the excellent quality, artistry and workmanship that every piece exhibits. The clientele of Liz Wood Products are truly global in nature and this serves as testimony to the quality and legendary craftsmanship that every piece from Liz Wood Products represents. Liz Wood Products has been able to uphold these hallmarks of quality, artistry and workmanship because we have our own proprietary saw mill in Cochin to procure and process raw materials of the highest quality and grade. Our facility is one of the biggest...
