About Us

Established in the year 2010, we, “RC Gemological Laboratories”, have made a strong position in the market in terms of providing services like Diamond Sealing Service, Diamond Grading, Colored Diamond Grading, Colored Diamond Identification and Origin, Laser Inscription of diamonds. We are backed by expert professionals, who assist us in rendering these services with utmost precision. Further, we have set up an advanced gemological laboratory to meet the rising demand of right gemological certification. Owing to immense expertise in offering technical training on cut as well as polished diamond grading to the corporate professionals. The client-centric approach followed by us has assisted us in offering our services as per the clients' requirements. Our transparent dealings have supported us in winning the trust of the customers and attaining new ones. Throughout their careers, RCGL's gemologists have advanced the cause of comprehensive gemstone reporting, encouraging full and accurate representation of every gemstone tested. This has included, but has not been limited to, complete disclosure of gemstone treatments, as well as developing clear and understandable reporting formats. On numerous occasions, RCGL has advanced gemological understanding and procedures to address challenges facing the gemstone and jewellery industry while developing methodology to put these findings into practice. We are on the path of success...
