About Us

Regalila Fashions creates high-fashion, uniquely embellished goods in the indigenous home of embroidery in Bengal, India. We use innovative materials-wool, beads, stones, shells, cords, threads-stunning techniques, unparalleled craftsmanship, and attention to detail to deliver one of a kind, inspiring garments, accessories, and fabrics.

We specialize in producing hand-made goods with embroidery, crochet, and embellishments that require the most exquisite craftsmanship. What sets us apart from our competitors is our commitment to the highest quality possible: We employ only the most skilled craftsmen in our factories, use the highest quality materials and machinery, stitch with precision, and use exacting quality check procedures to ensure our customers receive the finest products.

We currently work with several large designers in the United States and Europe and would love to share our craftsmanship with you.

We have provided some selected images on this website, but contact us and we will send you more and provide you with swatches of our work, because we believe our work is the best testament to our company's dedication to quality, detail, and innovation.
