We are renowned in the market for manufacturing and supplying a sturdily constructed range of S Type Load Cells, Web Tension Controllers and more. The range has set us apart from our close business competitors.

About Us

Based in Bangalore, we R. R. Sensors & Systems are counted among the leading load cell manufacturers & allied instruments. We came into existence in 1993 and started its business as a manufacturer and supplier. The wide range of products offered by us comprises of High quality Shear Load Cells, Pope Reel Weighing Systems, S Type Load Cells, Web Tension Controllers, Load Cells and other Tailor made products to meet the numerous industrial needs.

“Can be summarized as customer satisfaction that can also look forward to innovative products for their ever increasing demand for new concepts” is the goal of our organization.

The products offered by us find application in Steel, Paper, Food Processing, Printing, Automobile, Tyre and other industries. We use the premium grade components and raw materials to manufacture the aforesaid products that ensure their hassle free operation and enhanced service life. All the products undergo strict quality tests on various parameters at every stage of production.

Different model Electronic Instruments, Load cells and other sensors which are used in wide range of industries namely steel, Paper, Food Processing, cement etc.,

Pope reel weighing system-In most of the paper industries the availability of storage space is a major constraint. The paper which is produced can be accurately weighed as the rolls come out thus saving the additional space required for...
