About Us

The history of Shree Krishna Industries dates back to 2007 when the promoters of this Company established a guar splitting plant at Mandi Adampur, Distt. Hisar, Haryana State Of India. In the year 2007 the first line for production of Food Grade Guar Gum Split was set up in a completely new premises under direct control of technocrats, well qualified and having experience of the trade to their credit, highly qualified partners under whom the entire working of the Unit and the Manufacturing process is constantly watched, vigil and care being exercised so as to regularly maintain the quality of the products. Since then the production, quality control, warehousing and other facilities have been expanded and improved from time to time. Now we have expanded 4 separate plants, 2 especially for Food grade guar seed and 1 for cotton mill and 1 oil drilling grade.

Shree Krishna industries command a high reputation nationwide for quality products, efficient services and level of reliability as a stable supplier of quality products. The organization lays special emphasis on maintaining quality standards parallel to the highest in the industry. It is always busy developing new and improved products for various applications. Currently we are dealing with Indian market and also in the process of embedding our fingers in international market.
