Creating jewellery is not a profession for me its a passion an art.

About Us

Soranam by Sonia Malhotra A One Stop Fashion Boutique The Creative streak was always there, it seems - the intricate symbolic pen sketches right from school days was a preview to what Sonia Malhotra would do in times to come. Sonia completed graduation in science and a diploma in Information Technology. Of course later pursued Jewellery and Footwear Designing courses at The London College of Fashion, U.K. Creativity always inspired her and fashion designing excited her. She was making abstract black and white pieces of art, expressing her inner most thoughts and her spirituality. She then thought of bringing her creativity and passion together to present a unique range of semi-precious and real jewellery, bags, footwear and fashion wear under her brand - SORANAM At the age of 22 she stepped into the world of ornate stones and strung them together in a breath taking array of designs and colours that immediately made a mark on discerning buyers. A big fillip and encouragement came from a panel in the British Embassy screening participants. The remark stunning jewellery by Ms. Joanna Taylor the wife of a top DFID British bureaucrat gave Sonia the push that all artists need early in their careers. The same lady invited her to London and presented her as a young talent in London.
