Manufacturer of brake cables, clutch cables etc.

About Us

Suprajit is today India's most preferred manufacturer of cables and instruments and meets the demand of virtually every major OEM in the automotive sector. We are a customer centric company, ready to take on challenging product development and manufacturing to international specifications for a wide range of Automotive Cables and Instruments. Incorporated as a Private Limited Company in 1985, Suprajit started manufacturing high quality liner cables to exacting Japanese standards for the automotive industry in 1987. Today catering to a wide spectrum of automotive and non-automotive cable requirements Suprajit has achieved a phenomenal growth, making it India's largest manufacturer of automotive cables with a capacity of over 50 million cables a year. From an initial turnover of Rs.0.3 million in the year 1987, Suprajit is now achieved a turnover of Rs.1.00 Billion. Its compounded annual growth of over 35 % is higher than the industry average. And it also has one of the largest manufacturing capacities for any one company in a specific country in the world.
