The electronic products have been growing rapidly in India. Mobile phones are almost pervasive. TV has become integral part of all households. Laptops, desktops and tablets have been growing rapidly.

About Us

Similarly other consumer appliances have also seen a significant growth in demand. Improving economic conditions, affordability of products and growing consumerism in Rural India are the primary drivers of this growth. While the products have been proliferating in numbers, there has been a growing chasm in the quality service available in the market for out of warranty products. With almost no affordable option available in the market, consumers have to fall back on mom and pop stores, who most often do not do a quality job, leaving the consumers disgruntled. HCL through its Direct to Consumer initiatives aspires to make quality service accessible to the masses. As part of these initiatives, HCL plans to open service centers across India and create a reach in the market. Through D2C initiative, HCL aspires to be No. 1 Neutral Retail Service provider in India for servicing Mobility, IT and Consumer Electronics & Durable Products across brands. The One-Stop- Service destination for multiples brands
