About Us

Founded in Quebec, Canada, over twenty five years ago, Woodland has grown to be recognized internationally as one of the world's leading manufacturers of extreme weather outdoor gear and outerwear. Woodland offers an extensive line of footwear, performance apparel and outdoor gear. Cold weather is part of our national identity, and there are no better judges of the quality of our products than those for whom they are designed—and by whom they were inspired. Our advantage is created by combining activity focused designs with the highest performing materials we can develop, constructed in the most innovative and effective manner possible. This perfect synergy of design, materials and construction is the target Woodland strives for in every product.

Whether it's a lightweight jacket for active pursuits or a summit tested parka for the coldest places on earth, our focus is on creating truly functional solutions for outdoor and adventure enthusiasts.

Woodland is one of only a few major outdoor industry brands in the World, to have its own integrated manufacturing facilities. This allows us to test proprietary production techniques and fully develop and commercialize our innovative products. We also have product assembled in seven countries around the world by high quality, experienced manufacturers. We prefer to have control at every stage of our products design and development. We also have one quality standard and it applies to all our products...
