About Us

we leverage the process of data and decision sciences to empower action, improve decision quality and create value annik brings a big-picture approach, through unique combination of business, technology and data expertise. We are simply described by two terms – innovation and impact. our comprehensive service portfolio is built on the premise “how can companies use high-end analytics to tackle big data business problems? ” which helps organizations predict with confidence, capitalize on future trends, make better decisions and improve business outcomes. our solutions swathe the life-cycle of a d i r e (acquire, design, implement, run, enhance) to create a “data to value” continuum.
