About Us

Film is not only a representation of collective arts but a tool to express the human feelings. Films acts a mirror of a society and some time may help as a medium for social reform. Visualizing this strength of film, the two self-motivated entrepreneurs thought to plunge into the business of film making.

To meet the aspirations in the life, people move from rural to urban and one to another country resulting into gradual breakdown of medieval order leading to separations, despair, anger, alienation and new resurgent society is emerging. The regional films perhaps can help in reflecting the regional cultural and social changes and restoring the social values. When the people are becoming global citizens, Arpan Film production is making endeavours to restore social and cultural values through films, arranging cultural events, celebration of festivals across the globe.
