Ashok Iron Works Private Limited is a record of successful evolution. As pioneering vision and powerful drive to change ahead of the times, has pushed the Group to become one of India's finest.

About Us

Over the last three decades since 1974, when the Group was established, the saga of the AIW Group is a record of successful evolution. As pioneering vision and powerful drive to change ahead of the times, has pushed the Group to become one of India's finest and most integrated jobbing foundries. Located at Belgaum, 500 Kilometres south of Mumbai, and 150 Kilometres from Goa, the AIW Group has foundries and machine shops that add value, by machining over 60% of the castings manufactured to fully finished condition.

In fact, AIW is one of the very few foundries which is QS-9000 certified. Driven by a team, fully committed to technological and service excellence, the AIW Group is all set to continue its ongoing quest for excellence.

As we enter the new millennium, the world has woken to the reality of immutable change, where world class performance, driven by a powerful vision, truly speaks the language of quality, technology, and service everyday, where adding value by anticipating change marks the winners and leaves those who fear change in the pages of a fast forgotten history.

Today, AIW is one of the largest jobbing foundry producing Grey Iron Castings required for Automobile, Farm Equipment Sector & Diesel Engines Industry.
