We are one of the well known manufacturers, suppliers and exporters of Electrical and Electronic Safety Equipment across the country. We even provide operational training to our clients.

About Us

The organization was established in the year 1999 as a sole proprietorship firm. We, Balaji Electronics & Automation, are an ISO 9001:2000 certified company engaged in manufacturing, supplying and exporting a wide array of Electronic, Electrical and Electro-mechanical Safety Devices. We have a team of professionals, who are highly qualified and experienced in their respective domains. A good team is an indispensable asset for any company to progress in this competitive market. We are a prominent manufacturer, supplier and exporter in global market for providing electronic and electronic safety devices for both commercial and industrial sectors. Headquarter of our company is situated in Jamshedpur, India. With our strong and deep-rooted network, we are able to be the major supplier channel to more than 100 original equipment contractors, commercial customers and contract manufacturers. Balaji Electronics & Automation has recently been awarded with Bharat Gaurav, an appreciation for coveted industry standard by the Council for National Development, New Delhi. We started in the industry as a supplier of safety equipment to TATA group of companies. The company later showed a speedy growth and achieved a distinct position in the domain. We also provide turnkey solutions to our clientele including Mines, Automotive, Bearings, Railways, Telecommunication, Cements, and Industrial Manufacturers. Market and time keep on...
