We are passionate about client service and providing our clients with the best possible IT hardware maintenance solutions. We are proud to be one of the first third-party maintainers in existence, and a leader in our industry.

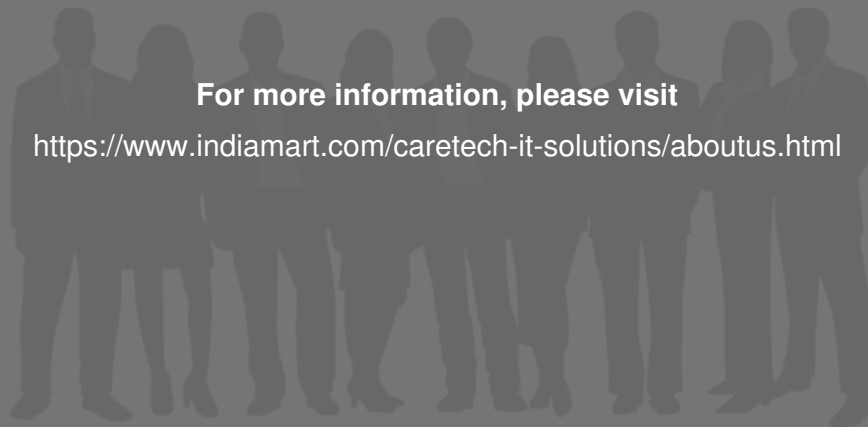

Everything we do as a company is geared towards exceeding our clients' expectations for quality service and added value. We take great pride in our premium support and the long-term relationships that have resulted from our efforts.

We instill a strong sense of accountability and responsiveness in our technical staff and representatives that ensures the quickest path to resolution for our clients. We have a "fix first, ask questions later" policy so that no call goes unanswered – we simply do not say "no."

We study our clients' operations so that there are few, if any, operational uncertainties. We ask a series of questions designed to provide a smooth transition to our services, and we accept the answers and adapt accordingly. Our methods allow us to be sensitive to our clients' needs while keeping our internal costs...
