About Us

RASPro enables any stand alone application to be virtualized, centralized, and managed on the central application server and instantly delivered as a service to users anywhere on any device. The application runs on a central web server and is published over the corporate network or the Internet to remote devices such as terminals, PCs, workstations, notebooks, wireless devices, and systems configured with minimal memory.

RASPro is the best solution to be used where employees must be continuously provided at different locations access to your multiple applications. If you're looking for an easy, plug-and-play solution to Web-enable or publish your applications, then the logical choice is RASPro. It can improve the performance of your applications by up to a minimum of 10 times faster.

The Benefits of Web-Based Application Publishing is a reliable, fast and efficient way to publish applications while reducing the complexity and cost of enterprise computing. The application itself executes completely on the server, guaranteeing high application performance for all users, including those accessing over low-bandwidth connections. Even more surprising is how affordable all this can be. It is the most economical way to roll out your established applications to any remote location.
