About Us

Headquartered in at Hyderabad, India. Clove is equipped with the necessary infrastructure, including and most importantly a team that brings hundreds of man-years worth of experience to the table. Leveraging the time-zone advantage, the low cost of experienced talent and the proximity to the regional IT and ITES hubs, Clove Technologies offers flexible, scalable, reliable and affordable global delivery model that guarantees results time after time. Clove Technologies is a leader in Engineering Services Outsourcing (ESO), Geospatial services, Patent illustrations and IT services with in-depth expertise. Clove helps organizations across the globe, bridge the gap between having a experienced resource pool, and the comfort and security of an in-house team by partnering with its clients as a seamless extension of their own businesses, delivering quality services in a timely and cost-efficient offshore delivery model. This helps our clients realize greater RETURN ON on their investments through targeted and precision driven design services. Clove functions as a seamless extension of its clients' engineering and development teams so they can remain focused on their core business objectives, while enjoying the benefits of an offshore delivery model, combined with the advantages of a dedicated resource pool. Clove Technologies understands that the whole purpose and rationale in outsourcing is to achieve a competitive edge. Hence, the Clove Technologies service offering, as a standard,...
