About Us

Cluster Life Drop is a website intentionally created mainly for those who are in need of blood and could find donors at their finger-tip. The site invokes the mind of people who have limited knowledge and misunderstandings regarding Blood Donation. Through this website, we seek donors who are willing to donate blood. The person who requires blood soon could find available blood donors and also create a post on the site for making blood donors aware of the need. The website is developed by Cluster Innovation Hub, established in 2013 is an IT based firm providing Web services, Software products and Training sessions, located at Sreenarayanapuram, Kerala. Their vision is providing quality web solutions by combining technology skills and domain expertise. They focus mainly on web software development, application software development, both in Open Source and in Custom Framework and also product outsourcing to market. Also provide an emphasis on timely action and quick support.
