About Us

Pain is a complex medical problem. Pain is as old as mankind! Only recently have doctors realised that it can occur for many reasons, and there is no single "treatment" that can cure it. Pain is defined by IASP as an unpleasant sensory and emotional experience Pain can arise from any part of your body: skin, muscle, ligaments, joints, bones (nociceptive pain), injured tissue (inflammatory pain), nerves (neuropathic pain), internal organs (visceral pain) or it could be a combination of these types of pain (mixed pain).
