About Us

Popularly known as P.C. Sorcar of Karnataka, S.P.Nagendra Prasad is a man with a mission. Incorporating social issues with the help of magic he tries to put across to the audience the message of a cleaner and greener Bangalore.

For S.P.Nagendra Prasad magic has always been in the blood. Being born to a family of renowned magicians he took interest in this art at a very early age. He toured India assisting his father Dr. S.C.Pandu Ranga Roa, former President of the Karnataka Branch of All India Magic Circle and it was only in the early 80's that he took it on as a career of his own. My break came in 1982 at the Jagan Mohan Palace at Mysore after which there was no looking back.

Nagendra Prasad is a magician with a difference. He can do anything from sending you on a visit to space and get a person to float in midair to producing elephants from thin air and converting horses to camels. But that is not all. While he has his share of shows on a regular basis, he makes it a point to put aside 10 percent of his income towards shows specially put together to spread social awareness. He has performed at self-funded shows on topics like how people can keep the city clean, to why people should stop smoking. He has also performed for citizens at old age homes, for cancer affected children and for prisoners at the central jail in addition to a whole lot of shows held at different slums in the city.

"Magic is a very strong medium of communication. It..."
