About Us

National Heritage Study centre and Kreupasanam Pauranika Rangakalapeedam, is a unique and sole institution that is working for the renaissance of minority culture and art for last twenty years. Initially, an organization was formed in 1989, so as to rejuvenate the coastal folk arts. Fr.V.P.Joseph founder Director of National Heritage Study centre, while aiming for the rejuvenation of folk arts, his area of concern was not confined to research study or academic excellency. He walked along with the art forms. His initiative include discovering the new phases of art, training centers were established in different parts of the state, identifying the coastal artists and reviving them, performing the art forms in different areas so as to popularize the art form among people

Under the leadership of Fr.V.P.Joseph, The centre has produced the first ever ChavittuNadaka documentary film in Malayalam, Samskrithiyude Samanwayam. It has also produced 7 seven documentary films related to folk art Imbibing the modern needs, a 16 dayChavittunadakam had been adapted to a 12 min show titled “ Marthoma Sandhesam” mainataining allits inherent traditional qualities like choreography, costumes etc. At first it was exhibited at Andheri stadium, Mumbai where 24 international channels telecasted the program.
