About Us

GL Communications was formed by Vijay Kulkarni and T. Bruce Yost on October 22, 1986. Vijay and Bruce met in 1985 while working as Engineers at FiberTrak in Reston VA. FiberTrak was a company formed by two railroads Norfolk Southern and Southern Pacific to design and build a communications network along their railroad right-of-ways across the United States. The project was dropped but a friendship and long-term partnership that has lasted twenty years was formed. Out of this friendship GL Communications Inc. was born.

GL Communications Inc. provides unique targeted PC-based test analysis and simulation products and consulting services to the worldwide telecommunications industry. A privately held company, founded in 1986 GL offers customers a team of seasoned experts with a broad understanding of the specific challenges they face and the technical creativity to meet complex requirements. GL provides customers with a wide range of easily-adapted cost-effective and highly-reliable products and services designed to aid the telecommunications engineer.
