About Us

Gyan Vaishnav has been a prominent Punjabi vegetarian restaurant in the Vidhan Sabha area of Lucknow, serving popular punjabi delicacies to fulfill the palate of the capital's residents since its establishment in 1972. With its sprawling two decked area, home-like food, quick service seating and a value for money menu to choose from, it has seen families and professionals of all kinds patronize its tasty flavors from all parts of Lucknow. The promoters of GVH popularly known as Mamaji & Kakaji have for the past 42 years made sure that they make every visit to the restaurant worth its while with a menu ranging from popular Soups and Salads to sumptuous Thalis and its highly sought after Kheer, which is a destination dish for a lot of visitors. Favorite food items the restaurant serves include Cholle, Rajmah, Matar Paneer, Punjabi Kadhi, the zingy Chilli Paneer among others. It is a one of its kind restaurant in lucknow which offers both quick-eat items for the young college going crowd (like Bhatara Chana, Puri Cholle) at unbeatable prices and also acts as a full-service restaurant which families seeking the tastiest Punjabi food have flocked to for years. The restaurant also has spacious cabins which have been a hit for birthday parties, special events and which even families have specially book for themselves to have a great time. Head out to our place if you really want to taste the best Lucknow has to offer in...
