About Us

HP Inc. creates technology that makes life better for everyone everywhere. Through our portfolio of printers, PCs, mobile devices, solutions, and services, we engineer experiences that amaze. HP is one of the leading print and personal systems technology company in the world.

In a constantly changing, connected world, HP Inc. continues to make strides in technological advancements to showcase what tomorrow holds - so industries, communities, and individuals can continue to develop how they operate, ideate, and create what matters most to them. At HP, we put the planet first because we believe that together, we can make a quantifiable difference.

In 2016, we shifted our performance review process to include frequent, consistent, and engaging conversations between employees and managers, in order to advance employees' skills faster than in traditional annual review cycles. Managers focus on what employees accomplished and how they reached those achievements, to reinforce positive habits.

Leaders now provide rewards based on their judgment and support from human resources, rather than a rating system. In 2016, 97% of eligible employees received performance input. Additionally, 79% of employees were recognized for making a positive business impact and 51% were acknowledged by a colleague for demonstrating strong teamwork and workplace values.
