About Us

IBMR aims to focus on Stem Cell Research and Education. We established recently in 2010 under auspices of Kanmani Fertility Center (P) Ltd Our institutions mission is to acquire the basic knowledge and through understanding of stem cell behavior at different conditions and each cell specification lineage required for development of regenerative therapies to treat fatal human diseases. Ultimately we seek to provide scientific foundations for the application of cell replacement therapies in treatment of human disease and injury. Our Center is directed by internationally proficient scientists, eminent surgeons and clinicians. Here, students and scientists, at all career levels and they may receive instruction in basic to advanced techniques which are integral to success in stem cell biology. In addition, we extend our programs to those from other universities and colleges to further expanding and strengthening the potential of human embryonic stem cell research in India. The Center has a comprehensive, integrated training and research program in the fundamental biology of stem cells (SCs), human development and reprogramming. Our 25 years of experience in fertility centre with advanced techniques expertise are the key to conduct research in this cutting edge stem cell field.
