About Us

Over hundreds of years through which horsemanhsip was refined, men riding horses began expecting more than just a comfortable seat on the horseback. Whether it is a hunt, a sport or just a back-breaking shepherding job, the perceptive rider is increasingly looking for comfort and ability to stay for long hours on horseback, aesthetics, durability and, importantly, a horse-friendly aid.

Other accessories - bridles, harnesses, halters, breaches, chaps are now receiving similar attention from users. This has necessitated research. Collection & collation of customer feedback resulting in periodic design and construction review.
