About Us

INTRON for short is a one step stop for all your requirement of precision Resistor Products in leaded as well as SMD. We have brought together the products from the best manufacturers from all over the world so that you can procure all your different requirements from us at one place. We have with us the very reliable INTRON manufactured low tcr precision thin film resistors and resistor networks including hybrid networks. They come in low tolerances down to ±0.05% with a tcr of ± 3 ppm/°C. We have available with us precision resistor products with a wide value range and power ratings in cutting edge technologies like foil technology, thin film technology, surface mount, leaded, high power, high voltage, low value, high value etc. you name it and we shall deliver. We also cater to low volumes for your R & D and hold stocks of the regularly used values. We have specialized resistor for such different applications as precision weighing scales, temperature controllers / chart recorders, sophisticated electronic equipment & instrumentation, laboratories, current sensing, etc and what is more we can guide you to choose the right resistor for the right application.
