We are providing quality and time bound management consultancy, training, and IT services namely Android App development, Web applications, SEO, e-learning/training modules, cross platform desktop application, and customised software.

About Us

We are into management consultancy, corporate training, people development, since over two decades. J.M.Pant has been mentoring and life coaching since last two years, objective being to prepare individuals realise their goals, bridge the gaps, prepare for potential leadership positions, and career transitions. This year we initiated a start up on IT services offering app development, web applications and other software services. We are doing job work as well as developing our own products.

Our focus is on quality, not volumes. We customise solutions. Our pricing is competitive. For us long term, mutually beneficial working relationship is important. Our strength is versatility with varied experience in industry and consultancy, life skills and knowledge across disciplines.

We work both online and offline, though increasingly because of technology and good quality connectivity, we are able to do substantial work online and look forward to work more with clients both in India and overseas on online mode using the medium of skype and whatsapp.
