About Us

Jurong international is synonymous with singapore's industrialisation efforts. We have come a long way since the 60's, having adapted to changing market conditions and performed in challenging environments. Today, our offices in china, india and the middle east reach out to a truly global mix of customers who expect nothing short of excellence. We help these customers mastermind their township dreams, realise economic zones, bioscience facilities, marine and infrastructure developments, residential and recreational amenities, and the list goes on. From start to finish, jurong international is all about innovation. Through our collective knowledge, experience and skills, we are inspired to create bold solutions that truly unlock our growth potential. All this, as part of our consultancy, design & build, and facilities management services for completed projects that spread across 150 cities in 47 countries. Our group of diverse professionals ranges from planners, architects and engineers to laboratory design experts, sustainable development advocators and underground storage specialists. We provide an entire value chain of integrated services and aspire to be the globally preferred service provider in the built environment. We are different. We take you forward to realise your vision.
