About Us

KnowledgeWorks philosophy is based on power of knowledge and value it brings to individuals and organization per se. With tight IT economy, organizations are expected to deliver results within tight budget and schedule. Doing things right the first time is the need of the day. In view of these factors, availability of trained and experienced resources has become all the more imperative to have an edge over the competition.

KnowledgeWorks located in the Silicon Valley of India - Bangalore to address the pressing needs for skilled resources in a short time. KnowledgeWorks specializes in providing Training and Staffing services in the areas of Client / Server, Internet, Systems Programming and Mainframes technologies. Our focus on emerging technologies like Web Services, XML will help clients tap the market in this new economy. It is for our professional approach to Corporate Training and Staffing services that our clients repose confidence in us and come back to us for their training needs and staff augmentation.

The company's strength lies in deep understanding of technologies and markets backed by wide experience in domestic and international sales and marketing.
