About Us

The Company was initially West Bengal based. But the Company had expanded its business to Bihar, Jharkhand, Assam and Andaman & Nicobar Islands over the span of years. Great brands are not just only criteria to delight the consumers but also to foster national economic growth, create large-scale livelihoods by empowering value chains, invest in physical infrastructure and thus expand markets. The company is yet to utilise its full capacity to cater the needs of the people in every nook and corner of the country in coming years. As our production is labour oriented, we were able to provide a generous amount of job opportunities directly and indirectly to the backward classes of our society. We have also contributed in women empowerment by providing them with part-time job opportunities. We just don't make products to sale them but also add love to it to ensure complete customer satisfaction.
