About Us

As an individual sentient being, growing cognitively, morally, materially and spiritually, I became aware of Consciousness as both the awareness of the temporal existence of reality, as well as the multi-logical interpretation of reality. The perception of reality as the developmental stage of mind, as well as its existing state.

While Eastern philosophies to have focused on explaining "Reality" with reference to the state of consciousness of the mind / body, as gross, subtle and causal, Western thought has represented it in a psychodynamic spiral of development, or stages of consciousness.

My sculptures and drawings in this current body of work, explore the realm of consciousness both in terms of stages of consciousness and states of consciousness.
