About Us

Monsanto is a relatively new company. While we share the name and history of a company that was founded in 1901, the Monsanto of today is focused on agriculture and supporting farmers around the world in their mission to produce more while conserving more. We're an agricultural company. Below is an interactive presentation with photos, videos and Monsanto stories. We invite you to explore the Monsanto history today. Monsanto named one of the "100 Best Corporate Citizens" by CR Magazine. Monsanto announces plans for $400 million expansion of Chesterfield Valley Research Center, including 36 new greenhouses, additional offices and laboratory space as well as additional plant growth chambers to facilitate development of its seed and trait pipeline, and adding 675 jobs over the next three years. Monsanto forms Honeybee Advisory Council and pledges support for honeybee health. The trait in Genuity® DroughtGard® Hybrids receives Chinese regulatory import approval, paving the way for U.S. farmers to market the DroughtGard Hybrids grain to export markets. Monsanto's Robert T. Fraley named 2013 World Food Prize Laureate. Monsanto receives the Gulf Guardian Award from the Environmental Protection Agency's Gulf of Mexico Program for the company's Mississippi River Watershed Partnership. The partnership aimed to reduce nutrient runoff and sediment movement in the river system.
