About Us

Since the company Mr Chef Cooking Service was established in 2014, have evolved to offer an increasingly diverse array of services to our clients. We providing consultant & consultancy services to investors or individuals interested in entering the hospitality industry, as well as helping hotels, resorts, restaurant etc., generally independent, which are already operating. The most important aspect of a good hotel consulting agency consists of the years of experience it has related to both hotel operations and business in general, greatly valuing international experience. In the same way, wide academic background is essential if we want to hire the best professional to help us be successful, by making more effective decisions at the right time. Hiring the services of a company specialized in hotels or resorts, restaurant, cafe etc. should not be regarded as an unnecessary expense or as a last resort when things get ugly. An experienced and well trained consultant is an excellent investment to obtain the desired results for your business.

It is true that sometimes it is not easy to resort to a stranger, but sometimes all that is needed for a standard hotel company to become excellent is its willingness to change and an external consultant to help us do it.
