About Us

HELPING THE WORLD GROW MORE WITH LESS As the world's population continues to rise and natural resources come under pressure, more efficiency makes more sense than ever. At Netafim, we help our customers produce more yields and better crops with less water, land and energy. Netafim is the global leader in drip and micro-irrigation solutions for a sustainable future. At the intersection of water, food security and arable land, drip irrigation enables growers to maximize food production with the lowest environment impact – this is sustainable productivity. Since introducing the world's first drip irrigation system in 1966, we have led the way by developing reliable, simple and affordable products that help our customers achieve optimal and sustainable results.
