About Us

We are highly experienced tutors striving to bring quality instruction to working professionals, university students and people who are interested in improving their communication. We would like to provide inexpensive access to quality instruction which should provide the right platform to help individuals build on. English is the medium of Business and Education in most parts of the world and Spoken English is the bare necessity. Onlineaccentspokenenglish has been conducting classes for well over 10 years. We cater to the specific needs of the individuals who wish to correct their pronunciation, fluency and written English – onsite and online. Internet has allowed a lot more students from across the world to have access to quality instruction to enable them to move forward in their chosen fields of specialization. Anyone can take our classes provided they can read and write Basic English. We aim for quality of instruction first. We provide personalized instruction only.
