About Us

Mr. J. P. Shah lovingly known as Dada by his students gave selfless service throughout his life giving knowledge on the various forms of Art & craft. He believed that age is no barrier towards attainment of knowledge – “Child or Adult – and he never refused to teach anyone. He Believed that each student should strive for excellence. He also taught them values of life. This website is dedicated by them to their great teacher for the promotion of the art among the people of Panchmahal and invite citizens to become active participants by joining the Panchkala group thus providing them with enthusiasm and inspiration to excel in their work and help promote their artistic skills.
