About Us

Phonologies is a provider of cloud based platforms to voice enable business processes by cost effectively deploying web telephony, collaboration, unified communications, speech IVR and other types of applications within the social media, contact center and other enterprise domains.

Our software-only technologies are easy to plug-in to business processes and implement open standards that are flexible and easy to manage, resulting in interoperability, lower costs and protection of investments in the long run.

Our flagship product, Oktopous powers over 10 Million calls worldwide each day.

Phonologies was established in 2001 and operates from Mumbai, Pune and Hyderabad, India with global clients.
