About Us

Teleradiology Solutions (www.telradsol.com), which has been rated the number 1 National Teleradiology company in the US by the KLAS survey, is a pioneer and world leader in the teleradiology space and was founded in 2002 by two Yale trained physicians. It has been providing teleradiology reporting services to hospitals across the world for over a decade and was awarded the title of 'Best in KLAS' among teleradiology providers. Teleradiology Solutions was among the first teleradiology organizations to be accredited by the US Joint Commission (JC) as well as the only such provider to be accredited by the Ministry of Health, Singapore. With its team of experienced subspecialist radiologists, TRS has a large cumulative experience in interpreting non invasive diagnostic imaging studies, including digital radiographs, CT, MRI, sonography, and Nuclear Medicine studies including PET-CT. The organization uses information technology for varied purposes from teleradiology to telemedicine to e-teaching. Its strong commitment to academics in Radiology is part of the organizational culture and has led to the creation of this e-learning portal in Radiology, Radguru.net , designed to promote e-learning and continuing updates on radiological knowledge for radiology residents and practicing professionals. This portal is fully supported by TRS's not for profit division, the Telerad Foundation.
