About Us

Rangoli Digital Press was established in the year 2005. We are the Service Provider of the Photo Printing Services. Our services are aimed at those who are looking for something exclusive and exotic that set the imagination free but catches all the attention. We are not just words. We are the perfect mix of technique and technology. Being one of the largest reseller of the market, we leave no efforts behind in providing complete quality and product durability assurance to the clients.

We own a large showroom which is capable of accommodating different support gear, dollies, cameras. we understand that needs are not similar, hence, for our clients' convenience, we provide a facility to "mix & match" and build a package as per their specifications. The Digital Cinema Cameras we offer are highly acclaimed of their excellent focusing ability, high quality picture delivering ability, simple functionality and longer functional life. We are highly focused towards the clients and work towards providing them with the right equipment which suits their exact needs. Moreover, we make sure that our products provide quality results to the clients and help us earn their trust.
