We are engaged in manufacturing and supplying of a wide range of Plastic Poultry Equipment, Household Products and Kitchen Crockery Products. These meet the demands of Residential as well as Commercial purposes.

About Us

R M Equipments Pvt Limited has been in the forefront of plastic Injection moulding for over four decades. It is the fifth manufacturing Unit established by two enterprising brothers.

Big things always have humble beginnings. What started off as a makeshift company in a rented room, doing job works of small components less than 10 grams, the company today has grown in stature of making high end precision engineering products to industrial solutions, house hold goods to complete poultry solutions. RMEPL's state of the art manufacturing facility facilitates a product line of more than 100 products.

Quality, Focus on the needs of the customers, Continuous Innovation, a well established distribution network covering the entire Nation and a competent team of customer support engineers have been the core strength of the company.
