About Us

'Stavyah Technologies' is one of the fastest growing startup software development companies based in Bangalore, India. We believe in enabling our clients simplify business processes and bridge process gaps with our innovative yet cost effective IT solutions.

A team that is powered by experience of industry bred professionals and the creativity of some of the most promising IT graduates; Stavyah Technologies has the personnel to provide the right IT solution for almost any business.

Stavyas core strength lies in providing web development, e-commerce and content management solutions, e-Learning and ERP solutions. With a fully equipped design studio and a strong team of developers, we have the resources to handle multiple projects of varied magnitude. While we stand out as a distinctly different company in terms of the approach we have towards projects, we also are different in the way we operate. Our operations are well refined thus enabling us to monitor the progress with periodic QA checks as well as deliver on time, every time.
