About Us

Today's business traveller is also a time traveller. You move seamlessly between time zones, which requires you to do things your way and at your pace. Equally important, your standards are global and you expect to be indulged even if you are on a budget. Keys Hotels is a new genre of executive hospitality that offers facilities and amenities important to keep you focussed and productive, while giving you complete control over your costs. Services synced to your personal style and requirements give you freedom and command over your schedule, even if it is as demanding as hosting an unexpected conference at 3 am, or flexing those biceps in the gym. Keys Hotels is fresh in its approach, dynamic in its offering and highly value-driven. It has been developed and designed after extensive research with travelling executives like yourself, who demand both finesse and functionality at a reasonable price.
