About Us

At the onset of the digital revolution, Theorem began with a single vision: to become the leading provider of digital media operations, reporting and technology services for the media marketing industry. Today, Theorem is firmly positioned as a global, industry-leading digital marketing partner to some of the world's most recognizable organizations. With offices on four continents, Theorem offers a full suite of services to maximize the power of online media for some of the most sophisticated digital marketers in the world. Leading publishers, networks, technology providers, agencies and brand marketers have leveraged our expertise to supplement or manage their digital media operations in the Americas, Asia Pacific, Europe and the Middle East. Backed by scale, proficiency and operational maturity, Theorem can manage all aspects of our clients' digital media, from inception through execution and optimization. By offering a flexible, customized experience, Theorem can help clients meet and exceed their marketing goals while freeing them up to focus on running their business. Whether a client needs all of our services or just one or two, if they want white-labeled, team extension or open third-party acknowledgment, we will mold our team to suit their needs. We call it "innovative collaboration," and it can lead to a refreshing sense of relief when the "burden of media execution" is lifted. Theorem Inc. is a privately held...
